This is the story of Aladdin. He was a good boy. He lived with his mother in a small house. They both worked hard because he didn't have a father.

One day an old wizard came to their house. 'I am your uncle,' the wizard said. 'Come with me, Aladdin. Do what I say and you will have a lot of money.'

Aladdin went with him.

Aladdin and the wizard went out of the town. The wizard showed him a hole.

'This is a cave,' the wizard said. 'There's an old lamp in the cave. Go down the stairs and find the lamp. Wear this ring. It will help you. Bring the lamp to me and I will give you a lot of money.'
